

Peer Tutoring Program

What it is: The Peer Tutoring Program is a critical component of the Cura Personalis Program. It is designed to help any student who is struggling in a particular class. The Peer Tutoring Program (PTP) is available to all students, but is required for any freshman or sophomore who is failing two or more classes. Students who are required to attend will be notified that their attendance is required and will be for a minimum of three weeks. PTP is offered on Tuesdays and Wednesdays from 3:00-4:00 in the Criss Auditorium. The PTP will be staffed by 3-4 faculty members and 6-8 National Honor Society members. The members of the NHS will work on a rotating schedule and this will be an integral part of their service requirements. Students should arrive with particular questions in mind and be ready to work. The tutors have a limited amount of time to work with students and need them to be prepared.

What it is not: The PTP is not a place for students to congregate and socialize. If students are not actively involved in getting tutored, they will be asked to leave.
