03 Diving Trip for Two to Dunbar Rock

A favorite destination of trip leader and DiVentures founder Dean Hollis, Dunbar Rock is located near Guanaja, the eastern most of the three main Bay Islands off Honduras. The island is incredibly easy to access, being only 10 minutes by boat from Guanaja Airport, which is just a two-hour, direct flight from Houston, Texas. Guanaja's reef is also a protected marine reserve, making it an ideal spot for scuba diving. It's located on the eastern mountains forming the Bonacca Ridge, the southern rim of a great wall dropping into the Cayman Trench, the deepest point of the Caribbean Sea. Because of its proximity to the trench, Guanaja attracts marine life usually found in deeper waters. This includes large, migratory pelagic animals such as hammerhead sharks, manta rays and whale sharks. Visibility averages 100 feet, and varying depths make it perfect for beginner and advanced divers.

During your trip, you will stay at the beautiful Villa on Dunbar Rock and enjoy 360-degree views of Sandy Bay, Guanaja and the surrounding cays. Savor the great hospitality with all-inclusive food and drinks at this landmark where Blackbeard the pirate moored his ship long ago!
